GREENLEE OFFERS NEW HPD SERIES SIGN POST DRIVERS

ROCKFORD, Ill., October 25, 2003 – Greenlee now offers its new line of Fairmont HPD series sign post drivers are designed with plenty of power to drive a variety of post sizes and types from small delineator posts all the way up to 3 ½-inch round posts, such as square "U" channel, breakaway stubs and round "T" fence and wooden posts.

The HPD series sign post drivers come with dual guide handles and interchangeable adapter to match different post styles that allows the end-users to keep posts straight and parented so the sign faces the right direction.

The HDP drivers can be operated either from hydraulic circuits on trucks or from stand-alone hydraulic power units. The drivers can be ordered either with an integral feathering trigger or with a remote on/off valve attached to 70" long hoses

The HPD-T models with feathering trigger are most often used when the operation requires driving short stub posts that will support full height posts. The HPD-HV models with the remote on/off valve are usually used when full height posts are to be driven.
